Personal Thoughts

My personal thoughts about the 1980 's is that a lot has happened. Many things have progressed in the 1980 's. The drama shows, actually generally all the shows have become much more enjoyable. They are also shown in colour and that black and white started to become more outdated by the time. You could even see black and white slowly falling out throughout the years of 1980s. I also believe that the world started to feel more vibrant and things felt like it will be more peaceful. I also was surprised about how the 1st Macbook look. I was also surprised that racism of black people started to die out and how many black people started to be looked as real people. What I was really surprised was how low the cost was for foods and supplies. How candy bars only cost 25 cents, especially eggs only being $0.91. I consider these prices to be very cheap, unlike now. Looking throughout the history of the 1980 's, I started to notice how many changes began and the result, which is the life I 'm living right now, happen.
